

THE TRUTH OF THE MATTER

President Nixon was forced to resign because he had violated the law and sought to cover up the Watergate break in.

President Obama may yet be forced to resign for having been found to have violated the Constitution for covering up the fact that he was not "natural born" as is required to run for and be elected to the office of President of the United States, as explicitly set forth in the Constitution in Article II, Section 1, Paragraph 5 as follows:

"No person except a natural born Citizen or a Citizen of the United States, at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the office of president; neither shall any person be eligible to the office who shall not have attained the age of 35 years, and been 14 years a resident within the United States."
(Article II, Section 1, Paragraph 5)

Assurances by President Nixon that he was not a part of the cover up did not make Watergate go away. Truth won out.

Assurances by President Obama that he was native born has not made 'Birthgate' go away. Truth must be found out to a 99.99% certainty -- a percentage of scientific certainty that is available through submission of the original "certificate of live birth" dated August 4, 1961, to forensic testing. The vintage of the paper can be tested and proven as well as forensic testing of the vintage of the ink left by the typewriter ribbon used to fill out the certificate of live birth form as well as the ink in the preprinted form entitled "certificate of live birth," the lines and blank spaces of which were allegedly filled out by a clerk typist at Kapiolani Maternity and Gynecological Hospital in Honolulu, Hawaii on August 4, 1961.

Arthur Conan Doyle in his famous stories about Sherlock Holmes perhaps gave us our first look at what was later to be called the science of forensics. The detective Sherlock Holmes used human fingerprints to solve crimes. These types of "fingerprints" are the "swirls" visible on our fingertips to the naked eye, with each human being possessing their own distinctive fingerprints.

The science of forensics grew from there to where there was discovered a type of 'fingerprinting' of bullets extracted from bodies by the demonstration that the markings on the sides of bullets could be matched to the markings on the side of another bullet fired from the defendant's gun at the FBI lab -- the gun barrel was leaving its own 'fingerprint' so to speak.

Then fast forward to today when the U.S. Treasury can examine pallets of paper on which the currency is printed, which under a modern-day molecular spectroscopy microscope reveals its own 'fingerprints.' If called upon, they can almost tell you the cotton field from which the cotton in a particular batch of paper came. Microbes in the soil and other things visible only under the microscope vary not only from state to state but from county to county and sometimes from field to field within the same county.

It is now possible by saving back samples of each run of pallets of paper and appending to that sample a computer print out of the sequential serial numbers of U.S. currency printed using a particular run of pallets of paper (marked from the factory by numbered runs -- day and year of manufacture), the U.S. Treasury could take suspected counterfeit currency (some U.S. currency counterfeited by foreign governments is otherwise all but undetectable) and by looking at it under a molecular spectroscopy microscope and other instruments tell with 99.99% certainty whether or not the particular bill in question, with a particular serial number was or was not printed on the same paper as the sample paper on file for this sequential serial number. A foreign government can forge everything but the paper. The Treasury, the Secret Service and the FBI use the instruments manufactured by Fisher Scientific Company the world leader in this technology. I called and spoke with Mr. Mike Pannella, formerly a research chemist with the Maryland School of Pharmacology now employed by Fisher Scientific in the sale of their ultra-sophisticated microscopes. A copy of my telephone interview with him is attached. I asked him if the same technology of 'fingerprinting' paper could be used to the president's favor in positively identifying the paper on the which the president's certificate of live birth is filled out as matching paper of other forms used by the clerk typist at Kapiolani Hospital the week of August 4, 1961, to fill out other birth certificates. He gave a curious answer when he said: "You are right on!" He further stated: "Some of us were talking about this very thing just the other day." Other babies born at Kapiolani Hospital on August 4, 1961, share not only a birthday, but place of birth in common with the president. The commonality of the paper on which their original "certificates of live birth" were typed can substantiate the truth of the president's statement that he was native born.

Mr. Pannella said if given a day in the hall of records of the Health Department of the State of Hawaii and permitted access to the original of Obama's certificate of live birth, their molecular spectroscopy microscope and a cart of other equipment that he wheels into trade shows would allow him to state with 99.99% certainty whether or not the original certificate of live birth on file is or is not the genuine article.

He would be performing the following among other tests:

1. Cross-comparison of paper of "certificate of live birth" allegedly filled out August 4, 1961, with other certificates of live birth filled out at the same hospital on the same day, and days immediately before and after August 4th.
2. Analysis of the vintage of the ink appearing for all hand written signatures on the Birth Certificate.
3. Cross-comparison of the ink of the typewriter ribbon.
4. 'Fingerprint' (visible through their microscopes) left by the platen (black roller) of the typewriter upon the paper rolled through it -- analogous to the 'fingerprint' left by a bullet exiting the barrel of a particular gun.

He states when they emerge from that room they will have an answer with 99.99% certainty.

Since this can lift the cloud for the president once and for all and put 'Birthgate' to rest, should the president encourage and readily assent to it.

If for reasons best known to Barack Hussein Obama he stonewalls any effort to place his original certificate of live birth under the microscope, a court order could readily be obtained to do so. This is of paramount importance to the nation immediately! No private citizen would be allowed to deny access to their own birth certificate (other people born contemporaneous with Obama at the same hospital) in such an investigation. And no president may hide behind presidential privilege to shield his unconstitutional status as president to begin with.

No man is above the Constitution.

No man is above the law.

No man is above truth.

No man is above truth in this nation of, by and for the people.

America is not a dictatorship.

The people want truth. Our Constitution commands TRUTH.
